

TYNER ADDRESSES THE PRESIDENT.

Wants Truth to Go Upon the Records in the Matter of Fourth Asst. P. M. Bristow's Charges.

HE DENIES THEM ONE AND ALL.

For Forty Years Has Tried to Prove His Zeal and Faithfulness in Serving the Public.

Washington, Dec. 6.—James N. Tyner, who was assistant attorney-general of the postoffice department until dismissed on account of matters connected with the postoffice affairs, has sent the following letter to President Roosevelt:

"Washington, Dec. 6. To the President: Sir—In your official statement as president of the United States, addressed to the American public, in connection with the report of Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General Bristow on the alleged postal frauds you make certain statements concerning my supposed connection therewith which I take the liberty of answering, in order that it may properly go upon your official records.

"I do not desire to question your good faith or sincerity in accepting the conclusions of your subordinate, Mr. Bristow, and in dignifying them with the weight of your high official position, but it occurred to you that, pending the trial of the three indicted against me, based on the allegations of the report, and without having heard one word from me in my defense, your premature and unwarmed announcement of my assumed guilt and your call to the court and jury to endorse the same is, to say the least, extraordinary and dangerous. I am not even asking that I should be presumed innocent or that before I am condemned by you or the department I should be confronted by proof or witnesses, or given an opportunity to be heard in my defense, or that in the trial which confronts me I should have a fair trial. All I am asking is that in view of the uniformity of my life and the fact that my life may at any moment be forever sealed, this letter be filed among your official records of my case, together with my letter of July 27, 1903, to Mr. Bristow, a copy of which I attach.

"I desire again to deny any one of the veiled charges made by Mr. Bristow in his report, and to call your attention to the fact that in certain particulars of specific charges made against me in the conduct of my high office, nor has, nor can one cent of gain be traced to me. If my life is spared I shall fully refute all the surmises and insinuations of Mr. Bristow and shall be able to show the reasons which led him to withhold from you further data and to misquote and falsify that which he did submit to you.

"I also desire to state that if any of the friends of Tyner have, as you allege, advanced the theory that in this case the chief offender was my nephew, Barrett, and that my alleged offenses were due to my failing mental and bodily powers, they did so without my knowledge or assent. It is true that, owing to two strokes of paralysis, my bodily powers have failed me, and I may have to face a third and truer and stern judge ere many days; but my mental powers, I thank God, have never suffered, and I trust will not fail me until I have convinced the American public and you that my acts have been honest, honorable and straightforward in the sight of God and man. I am confident that the relations of Mr. Barrett with me and my department were as innocent and as honorable as I am sure were any of my motives and acts.

"I also wish to deny your utterly unwarranted statement that 'the gross corruption' in the case of Tyner has gone on for a number of years. You should know, and your subordinates do know, that no single act of corruption, gross or mild, has been discovered against me; and that the United States government, with its 40 inspectors, and chief investigator, Mr. Bristow, will be unable to discover one. I have tried by forty odd years of faithful service to my country to prove my zeal for the faithful discharge of duty in the public service, and now I say to you, the president of the United States, my executive, as if it were the last word I shall ever utter, that in your well recognized and honorable zeal for the public good, you have allowed yourself to be deceived and imposed upon, and while I cannot hope for a hearing, and while I cannot hope at least give myself the wretched solace of having denied these wrongs and of having demanded that hearing which

A REED SHAKEN WITH THE WIND.

Without Will Power, Courage, Ambition, Energy or Hope, the Desperate is Willing to Give Up the Struggle.

The confirmed dyspeptic has as little interest in life as any human being. He is unfitted for his duties and is indifferent to its charms. He is unable to enjoy the business and social relations that constitute the life of the average man. All his hopes are absorbed by the one hope to get well and again be able to enjoy the good things of life. Until this is realized, he is sick at heart and feels himself to be of little use.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the sufferer's tree of life. They will cure him and bring him health and happiness just as sure and certain as he takes them. They are sure because they are natural and no other cure but a natural one is sure. They act on the food and digest it just as well as a stomach would. They contain exactly the same chemical properties as the digestive fluids of the stomach.

By putting Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in a bottle or jar with any kind of food: meat, eggs or vegetables, with sufficient amount of water, the process of digestion is carried out just as it is in a healthy human stomach and in the same time. There is consequently no unnatural disturbance of the digestive organs resulting from the use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. They relieve the weak and worn-out stomach of its work and permit it to rest up and recuperate and regain its normal health and strength.

A well known Buffalo physician says: "I prescribe Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets on all occasions as a relief for weakened and run-down stomachs. I find they contain all the ingredients necessary for the proper digestion of the food and will do more to give the stomach the needed rest than any medicine I could prescribe. They have never failed to give immediate relief in all my cases and I do not hesitate to recommend them to all sufferers from dyspepsia."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50 cents a box.

right and justice ought to accord me. Very respectfully,

JAMES N. TYNER.

The letter to Mr. Bristow which is referred to in the letter to the president is dated July 12, 1903. It is in Gen. Tyner's answer to an invitation from Mr. Bristow to go to certain points involved in the investigation submitted by Mr. Bristow. Gen. Tyner says that as a full reply to the "unwarranted" in Mr. Bristow's letter may assist him in a fair and honest investigation of the general's office, he will return an answer, at the same time calling attention to the fact that he has no access to the files of the department, but speaks only from his best recollection. He then answers in great detail matters called to his attention by Mr. Bristow and closes as follows: "I am confident that the relations of Mr. Barrett with me and my department were as innocent and as honorable as I am sure were any of my motives and acts."

"I also wish to deny your utterly unwarranted statement that 'the gross corruption' in the case of Tyner has gone on for a number of years. ## HUSBAND SHOTS WIFE.

Then Lester C. Fitzgerald Killed Himself.

New York, Dec. 5.—A man and a woman registered as "Lester C. Fitzgerald and wife" were found dead early today in a room at the Hotel Delavan in Williamsburg, Brooklyn. The woman had been shot through the right temple. The man, who was found lying across the woman's body on the floor, also had been shot through the head.

A woman said to be a member of a theatrical company, says that she saw the man shoot the woman and then kill himself. She occupied an adjoining room and says she heard the couple quarreling. Looking through a keyhole she saw the man draw a revolver and fire the fatal shots. She at once gave the alarm.

It is said Fitzgerald was a glass manufacturer with an office in New York. The couple separated about six months ago, and met by appointment to effect a reconciliation. The tragedy resulted.

Later the identification of the couple as Lester C. Fitzgerald and his wife of Brooklyn was confirmed. He was senior member of a glass manufacturing firm, and was considered quite wealthy.

A large sum of money was found in his pockets. Both were nearly 60 years old, and separated six months ago after a long married life, owing, it is said, to jealousy. The husband arranged to meet his wife in the hope of effecting a reconciliation.

PANAMA REVOLUTION.

President Charged with Being Accessory Before the Fact.

Chicago, Dec. 5.—In an address before the Henry George association, Judge Edward F. Duran has declared President Roosevelt and Secy. Hay originally were cognizant of the Panama revolution. He reviewed the details of the secession and the treaty concluded between the United States and Panama, and declared the whole transaction "recond so unprincipled and so vile as to cause every American citizen who has his country's honor and glory at heart to hang his head in shame."

ANNUAL REPORT OF SECY. ROOT.

Strength of the Army, Officers And Men, is Fifty-nine Thousand One Hundred and Eighty-One.

IMPORTANT EVENT OF THE YEAR

Has Been Reorganization of the System of Military Control Under The General Staff.

War Department, Washington, D. C., Dec. 6, 1903. To the President—I have the honor to submit the following report of operations of this department for the past year.

On the 1st of December, 1902, the date of the last annual report, the army of the United States, according to the latest reports which had been received from the military departments, consisted of 5,588 officers and 66,003 enlisted men, a total of 69,591. In addition, there were in the service 3,598 men in the hospital corps excluded by the act of March 1, 1887, from classification as part of the enlisted force of the army.

At that time I reported an order made on the 24th of October, 1902, providing for further reduction of the army to the minimum strength allowed by law, except as to the original force which were to be kept at full strength for instruction purposes at Leavenworth and Riley, and the legion guard at Pekin. That order has been executed during the year by permitting enlistments to run out without filling the vacancies.

STRENGTH OF ARMY.

At the date of the last report received from the military departments, Oct. 15, 1903, the actual strength of the regular army was 3,881 officers and 55,560 enlisted men, distributed as follows:

| COUNTRY.                 | Enlisted men. | Officers. | Total.    |
|--------------------------|---------------|-----------|-----------|
| United States .....      | 2,764,306     | 41,823    | 2,806,129 |
| Philippine Islands ..... | 84,146        | 1,510     | 85,656    |
| Cuba .....               | 24,695        | 719       | 25,414    |
| Porto Rico .....         | 204           | 212       | 416       |
| Hawaiian Islands .....   | 188           | 197       | 385       |
| China .....              | 14            | 13        | 27        |
| Alaska .....             | 531           | 239       | 770       |
| Total .....              | 3,681,550     | 59,513    | 3,741,063 |

The distribution among the different branches of the service was as follows:

| General officers and staff .....              | Enlisted men. | Officers. | Total. |
|---|---------------|-----------|--------|
| Cavalry .....                                 | 880           | 2,908     | 3,788  |
| Artillery .....                               | 731           | 4,467     | 5,198  |
| Infantry .....                                | 631           | 15,839    | 16,470 |
| Securants and miscellaneous detachments ..... | 1,423         | 23,115    | 24,538 |
| Grand total .....                             | 2,139         | 21,339    | 23,478 |

There were also in the service twenty-six officers and 529 enlisted men of the Porto Rico regiment, ninety-nine officers and 4,805 enlisted Philippine scouts, and 2,807 hospital corps men.

These figures show a total net decrease during the year of 14,787. The acting adjutant general reports that the number of enlisted men who were entitled to reenlistment for length of service during the fiscal year, that is to say, the men who will be serving under reenlistment after the expiration of one or more terms of service will be 37,762, of these 10,173 will have had a continuous service of five years and upward.

ENLISTMENT. The total number of enlistments in the army during the year ending June 30, 1903, (not including hospital corps and Philippine scouts), was 18,291. Of these 5,906 were reenlistments, and 12,385 were new enlistments. 15,337 were native born, 2,735 were of foreign birth, and seventeen were born in Porto Rico. Of these enlisted in the United States, 1,468 were white, 790 colored, and twelve Indian. Five hundred and seventy-seven were enlisted for staff departments and 17,714 for the line. The reports show that these 17,714 were selected from 43,270 applicants, of whom 74,256 were rejected. Of these 1,336 were rejected as aliens and 2,648 as illiterates.

The aggregate of all enlistments and reenlistments during the year, including the hospital corps and Philippine scouts, was 19,917.

HEALTH AND DISCIPLINE. The health of the army has been good, except during the epidemic cholera in the Philippines, which occurred in the early part of the year, and is now ended. The detailed reports for 1902 show a total death rate, from all causes, of 15.49 men of each 1,000 of strength; 3.54 per 1,000 of these died of cholera, so that, including the victims of cholera, the record is 1.35 per 1,000 worse than the record of 1901, and including them, it is 1.39 per 1,000 better than the record of 1901.

REPORTS OF COMMANDERS. The reports of the generals commanding and of the inspectors general show that the food and clothing furnished have been satisfactory, and the arms and equipments of good quality. The transportation of troops and supplies has been promptly and effectively accomplished. The officers charged with maintaining the discipline and morale of the army have had to contend with the relaxation of orderly habits which always results from active military operations, and with the injurious effect produced at a large number of the posts by the abolition of the canteen, and the banishment of the older and more experienced officers has been increased by the fact that so large a proportion of the junior officers brought in upon the enlargement of the army were necessarily without A BALD NEWS-PAPE MAN. Getting a New Crop of Hair, and Has No More Dandruff.

Everybody in the northwest knows Col. Daniel Searless, the veteran journalist and publicist of Butte, Jan. 10, 1900, the colonel writes: "I used a couple of bottles of Newbro's Hair Regenerant with marvelous results. The dandruff disappeared; a new crop of hair has taken root, and the bald spot is rapidly being covered. Herpelide is the only hair preparation that kills the dandruff germ that digs up the scalp in scales as it burrows its way to the root of the hair, where it destroys the vitality of the hair, causing the hair to fall out. much military experience. It is evident, however, that throughout the year there has been during the year very active and faithful work. In many organizations a very high standard of discipline has been attained, and in all very gratifying progress has been made.

GENERAL STAFF.

The important military event of the year affecting the regular army has been the reorganization of the system of military control under the general staff act approved Feb. 14, 1902. For more convenient reference a copy of that act is annexed hereto as appendix A. This act abolishes the separate office of general commanding the army, provided for a military chief of staff to the president, who, acting under the directions of the president, or of the secretary of war representing him, should have supervision, not only of all troops of the line, but of the special staff and supply departments, which had therefore reported directly to the secretary of war; and it created for the assistance of the chief of staff a corps of forty-four officers who were relieved from all other duties.

Chinese Welcome in Mexico. Mexico City, Dec. 6.—President Fong of the China Commercial Steamship company and Linson Moxey, general counsel for the company, left tonight for San Francisco. They have arranged their business with the government and their arrival at San Francisco will make arrangements to dispatch their steamer to Hongkong on time. They expect that Chinese of wealth will come here to enter business, bringing millions of dollars with them. Capital in China is scarce and the opportunities for investment are alluring to the Chinese. Mr. Moxey regards it as feasible to open up large direct business between this country and China, besides bringing here great numbers of Chinese.

CALIFORNIA CLIMATE.

Its Happy Varieties Enable it to Suit Every Human Condition.

The climate conditions of California when considered, appear completely all one's preconceived notions of the relation between latitude and temperature. The latitude of San Diego, the southern city of the State, is about that of Charleston, South Carolina, while Los Angeles lies a little farther south than Memphis, Tennessee. The northern line of California is on the same parallel with Boston, Massachusetts.

From these facts one is apt to conclude that although Southern California may have a sub-tropical climate, adapted to the growth of citrus fruits, yet the northern part of the State, with the rigorous winters of the North Atlantic States or of Iowa or Nebraska on the upper Mississippi. This is, however, very far from being the case.

Four hundred miles north of Los Angeles and five hundred north of San Diego the summers are warmer and the winters but little more severe than in the cities named. All along the coast the climate is cool during the summer, with considerable low fog near the ocean, which during the day coats up to the summits of the Coast Range, and an abundance of moisture and an equable temperature. During winter this belt is almost frostless, and the rainfall is, except in the extreme south, from twenty-five to fifty inches annually.

The valley belt, extending six hundred miles parallel to the coast, is quite warm through the summer, with scarcely any rain from June to October. In winter it is cool, but on the coast, with much rain, the valleys the palms, figs and oranges and a congenial home, while the interior and mountain reach perfect standard frost from four to six weeks of good rising in the more southern country the rains.

The tourist's dream of each of either health or pleasure in California select his climate and his mode of life. A winter of rest with a summer on the Sierras will secure a most delightful and healthy climate during the entire year.

By carefully selecting the location, one can find plenty of land adapted to any kind of agricultural or horticultural pursuit, where with industry and economy he can build up a comfortable, self-sustaining home.
